Hello,

Many years ago we had a salt bin placed at the bottom of clemens Road in St keyne. This is a sloped road leading to two cul-de-sacs. It was removed a few years ago now and it has caused mayhem as we often become stuck, unable to get up the hill when its icy. This village has no shop and becoming stranded results in us being unable to get food. The main road is gritted but we can't get to the main road from our homes when like today, the hill is too icy.

Today many have fallen trying to get up and down the hill, with many residents here being elderly it is a matter time before there is a serious incident.

Could you please let me know if a salt bin can be replaced back to the bottom of clemens road.

Many thanks
